About The Conference

"Education is the potion that enables success". Education plays an important role in all walks of life. Be it in the elementary level or in the higher education level, education has its own unique place that marks a star over the head. In the light of universalisation of education, the concept of 'Education for All' has been put forth in the society. But it is rather a myth, since there are a number of people who don't acquire their right to education. It is time for the world to turn and have a look at the people who really need to taste their rights and to prove who they really are. Being technologically updated in all aspects, the world itself has become a global village where we spend a comparatively less time to insight our system of education. Quality is at the core of education.

It determines what students learn, how well they learn and what benefits they draw from their education. This has made us to have an agenda on the mission to ensure students' optimum learning outcomes that help them play a positive role in creating a civil society. Challenges still remain with respect to ensuring education of good quality. It is believed that quality comes in to the show in terms of input, process and output dimensions. Some of these components may be need-based curriculum, appropriate physical facilities, use of modern approaches to teaching, scholastic performance of students, professional preparation of teachers and linking education to life skills and world of work. Unfortunately, the prevailing system of education is marred with myriad issues including those of gender and social inequality. These issues need to be addressed on priority basis with a view arriving at proper solution and eliminating the existing flaws. This conference is an attempt to provide a good platform to review the existing programs and ideate on ingenious solutions to provide quality education to all as an entitlement.
